Danièle VRANKEN

President's Editorial

"I have just been going through our preliminary FAIB report for 2020, including the financial report, which we hope to present to you at our forthcoming June General Assembly – hopefully in person, otherwise virtually. Several things struck me: our membership has continued to grow steadily [...] Our webinars, which are replacing for the moment our lunchtime events (and which we might want to continue in part in the future), are proving a real success [...] But most significantly of all, what this implies from my perspective, is that associations remain all the more important at this time, even though our members cannot physically meet."
