Visual Leadership – A Practical Approach for International Associations

Speaker – Biography

Antoine Henry de Frahan started his career with international law firms Cleary Gottlieb and Linklaters, where he practiced corporate law (corporate governance, M&A and joint ventures). He then joined the international legal department of Engie to work on infrastructure project development and financing across Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

After ten years of legal practice, Antoine started his own management consulting firm (Frahan Consulting). He completed the Entrepreneurship program of Solvay Business School and became a certified master practitioner of NLP (neuro-linguistic programming).

Antoine has been conducting a wide variety of consulting, coaching and training assignments for law firms and law departments. In parallel, Antoine has increasingly been working with leaders and leadership teams in other sectors.

Since early childhood, Antoine has always been drawing, painting and cartooning (his schoolboy's notebooks were full of drawings). Later on, he made several painting exhibitions published cartoons in newspapers and was a very productive creator. A pivotal moment for Antoine was a graphic facilitation course with David Sibbet. Since then, Antoine has been blending his graphic talent and visualisation skills and his consulting work in a very distinctive manner.
